

Hello Power Fans;

It's Time to Unleash the Power! Live Friday October 12th, at The National Guard Armory in Northeast Philly; Power Productions presents Boxing Ringside 48 "East Coast Pride".

Featuring Miguel Cartagena VS. Jose Chili Rivera in a scheduled eight round Main Event. Undeclared Cartagena a Philly native looks to shine in his first major fight as the Main Event in his hometown. A young superstar who had an outstanding amateur career has put together an impressive professional record of 5 – 0 with 3 knockouts. Looking to build a name for himself on the professional level Cartagena wants to become the pride of the East Coast.

He's faced with a tough task in a quality experienced fighter in Rivera. Rivera from the Big Apple New York, New York "So nice had to say it twice" is no stranger to tough fights in his opponent's backyards. He brings a load of confidence into this fight with 11 fights, 6 against undefeated fighters. Rivera believes this fight is the perfect opportunity for him to also make a name in a division where stardom can come quick & fast.

Our Co – Main Event features Camden, NJ superstar Jason Sosa VS. Clinton "Pretty Boy" Douglas also of Philly in a scheduled six round bout. Sosa Vs. Douglas II is a rematch from a 2010 fight where Sosa won by unanimous decision. Sosa who excited our Power fans at the April 20th show against Angel Ocasio looks to bring that same level of competition into this fight. Douglas now being trained by Rasheem Jefferson an exceptional former Philly fighter has a new outlook on his future and is looking for some payback.

The undercard is packed with some Philly favorites and some newfound soldiers. We are overly excited about knock out sensation Saud "Kid Grady" Clark. Clark will no doubt give us plenty of action in his scheduled four round bout. We say scheduled lightly because Clark has yet to hear that final bell with a record of 2-0 both first round knock outs. If you haven't seen this gunslinger in action, you don't want to miss him!!

Also returning to the Power stage is Philly's Tyric "Too Sweet" Robinson. Robinson the former USBA Regional Champion is excited to be back in the ring. Coming off a three year layoff, Robinson is rested, revitalized and eager for another shot of good fortune. Robinson a 12 veteran at the Philadelphia Prison System when asked about the layoff says "I just needed some time to regroup. The layoff did me a world of good. But now I'm back and with the support of God, my family and friends, I'm ready."

Back to reestablish himself is Philly's Anthony Flores. Flores who started his career on fire went 8-0 with 5 big knockouts. Now sitting on a respectable record of 9-4 with 6 knockouts hopes to get back on track after a misfortune in his last bout when he was knocked out in the first round. Flores going up against Isaac Suarez in a scheduled six round bout is building up to be a hot topic of conversation. Suarez also a hometown sensation now living in Lancaster, Pa., brings an outstanding record into the ring with 7 wins 1 lost and 3 knockouts. This bout is all about pride as both fighters step up to the plate to give the fans what they expect to see. An action packed fight to prove who the pride of the Philly is!!

Making their pro debuts we highlight two young troopers, Rasheed Estrada and Eddie Gonzales. Rasheed Estrada standing 6 feet at 140 is an impressive foe who had an amateur career boasting 113 wins with only 7 losses. Excited to be stepping up onto the professional level, Estrada has the support of many as he is a local favorite. A bright young kid who works at the Maria Delos Santo Health Center in Allegheny has nothing but brightness in his future.

Then we present Eddie Gonzales. Who also is a tall kid standing 5' 11" fighting in the featherweight division, is a two time Junior Golden Glove champion and a two time Regional Champion in the amateurs. Fighting out of the Front Street Gym, Gonzales is ready to make his own mark.

Making a special guest appearance will be Philadelphia's newest World Champion sporting three belts, the WBC, WBA, & Ring Magazines belt, none other than the Super Lightweight Champion of the World

Swift Danny Garcia. The Champ will honor us a visit in support of the sport of boxing and these young warriors who dream of having the kind of success that has blessed Danny.
